It's Vanautu Time!

We just got back from a 7 week trip back east which started with us working with the Macedonian builders in Chouteau, OK. I was able to help with framing, plumbing, and concrete work on their new building. It was an awesome trip and we met some wonderful people there. From there we went onto Kentucky to work with fellow builder Randy Taylor. We had a great time working with the Taylors! We are home now and preparing for our upcoming trip to Vanautu.

We arrived home Saturday and Monday I prepared for some medical tests that I did Tuesday. Today is Wednesday and I got shots for the upcoming trip, and went to Home Depot to buy supplies that I'll need to take for the trip. There are just a few more days before I leave with a team of 8 from all over the country including, fellow California builder Jay Wiedner. This was a last minute addition to our schedule as the Island of Tanna was hit by a Category 5 storm this past March. We'll be putting on a second floor and roof system, and build a bathroom for a building that was torn apart by the last storm. The block walls remain but no roof. A medical team is following our building team, they are hoping to use this building when they arrive. Please pray for a successful trip, for safety and wisdom and skill by the builders.

I've been studying in the books of Kings lately and would like it if Elisha could come back and lay hands on my truck 😊 On the way home from back East, the High Pressure Oil Pump started going out. It would run but not start if the engine was warmed up.

When I return from Tanna I'll be attempting the repair the truck, prayers for this please!

We are in need of a little more funds for the Vanautu trip as the costs were higher when they went to buy tickets, and they need me to take some supplies with me. We also are in need of more support and funds to help with truck repairs if you able. Prayers are always coveted. Thank you so much for your love, prayers, and support of this ministry. As we go, you go with us by your prayers, love and support. May God bless you as you bless us!
